

EXCITING

Runaway Occurs In West End Of City

Wagon Demolished But No One Injured

A rather exciting runaway took place on West High street about nine o'clock Saturday morning when a horse, belonging to Mr. Joseph Porter of South Vernon, ran for some distance before finally coming to a stop against a tree. Mr. Porter had left his horse and wagon standing near the B. & O. tracks and had entered the Virginia lunch rooms nearby when he heard a commotion on the street. He looked out of the window just in time to see his horse turn around and start east on High street on a run.

The horse was finally stopped near Mechanic street, the wagon being badly damaged, both shafts being broken and the bed splintered to some extent. No one was injured as a result of the runaway.

SHARP

Brought Out As A Candidate For Senator

Columbus, O., Nov. 26.—The name of Congressman William G. Sharp, of Elyria, was formally brought out today by Charles H. Huston, former prosecuting attorney of Richland County, and Rupert Hastings, of Mansfield for United States senator. Mr. Sharp was re-elected this month in the Fourteenth district, which until 1908 was considered as adamant in its Republicanism. Not only did he carry it again, but he doubled his majority. The visitors stated that the congressman was sure to receive some votes on the first ballot from his district, and should be set down as a dark horse. He is, they say, a safe, sane and conservative legislator, and, being a large manufacturer would lend needed strength to the Senate in a practical way.

INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK SHOW

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26.—With a twenty per cent increase in the number of exhibits over last year the eleventh International Live Stock Exhibition opened today in the great amphitheatre at the Union Stock Yards. Breeders from all parts of the U. S., and many from Canada are represented, and the affair promises to be the most notable of its kind ever held in America.

The judges this year include Richard G. Carden of Ireland, one of the greatest authorities on live stock in Europe; David McKay of Fort Wayne, Ind., who is to award the prizes in the sheep division, and Prof. D. A. Gaumnitz of the Minnesota Agricultural College, who will select the champion in the swine department.

The judging of the merits of live stock by the students of the various agricultural colleges has become a great feature of the show, and rivalry among the different institutions is keen. The institutions represented this year include the University of Wyoming, University of Wisconsin, University of Nebraska, Missouri Agricultural College, Purdue University, Ohio State University, Iowa State College, Kansas Agricultural College and two Canadian institutions, Manitoba Agricultural College and Ontario Agricultural College.

ATTACKED

By A Steer And Quite Painfully Injured

Harry Moore of this city met with a very painful injury while attempting to kill a steer at about four o'clock Friday afternoon. Mr. Moore was standing directly in front of the animal preparing to dispatch it with a gun when it suddenly charged upon him with lowered head. He narrowly escaped being pierced in the body by the sharp horns and in doing so, threw out his right hand to "stiff arm" the angry animal. The palm of the hand came in contact with the point of one of the sharp horns and was badly torn and lacerated. He escaped further injury by quickly climbing out of the pen. The injury was dressed by Dr. C. K. Conard.

STILTS

To Be Used By Two Germans In Circling World

New York, November 26.—For a wager of $5,000 two German acrobats will attempt to circle the world on stilts. They obtained a promise of police protection from Commissioner Cropsey this afternoon on the first leg of their journey through the crowded streets from City Hall to the Jersey City ferry and from there they will make their way to Philadelphia. The hour of the start has not yet been decided.

The young men are Albert Marder and Hans Hoedkamp, until recently employed as stewards on a transatlantic liner, and the purse they hope to win was raised by the steamship stewards of Hamburg.

"We are expert stilt walkers," they said today. "We expect to walk 11 hours a day and we can travel 5 1/2 miles an hour. We are not allowed to take any money with us and count on making a living by selling picture postcards. We will work our passage on the ocean laps of the journey."

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SKELETON

Is Found In A Wooden Box In Mansfield

(Mansfield Shield) P. Binau, of No. 106 Hedges street, notified the police department Thursday evening that the skeleton of a human body had been found inside a box which was left in the rear of his lot Thursday morning about 9 a. m. by an expressman.

The police scented a trunk mystery and started to work on the case. Officer Harbaugh made an investigation and found that the headless skeleton was an old one. Coroner Maglott was also notified. He called at the city prison Friday morning and talked with Chief Feeney.

The police learned that George McEwen, a drayman, who resides on Burns street, took the box containing the skeleton to the Binau property. It seems that the skeleton was one that had been found in a house which was moved from the site of the proposed postoffice some time ago. Mr. Binau noticed the box and started to cut it up for kindling when he discovered the skeleton. It is likely that the gruesome thing will now be buried. It was one that had evidently been used for dissection purposes some time past.

Reception and Supper A Pleasant Affair

The reception and supper given by the Woman's Relief Corps, the Grand Army and the old soldiers and their wives at the Post hall Friday evening was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held in this hall. Every detail was perfect. Supper was commenced promptly at six-thirty. Over one hundred and forty persons were served and all in a space of thirty minutes. At the appointed time Col. L. G. Hunt announced that the company would fall in line single file, march through the ante-room to the dining hall for their supper. There each received a plate, napkin, fork and spoon, next bread and butter, doughnut, pickles, cheese escalloped oysters, escalloped potatoes, cranberries, coffee and sugar and cream, as they marched by the committee table they then filed through the property room to the main hall, took their seats, ate their portion and each by the same route returned their empty dishes to the kitchen.

The Mild orchestra volunteered their services for the early part of the evening and discoursed some very fine music to the delight of all present, leaving at eight o'clock for the armory where they had an engagement. When they left they carried with them a hearty vote of thanks for the part they took in making the evening one of great pleasure.

The program, as published in this paper, and quite an additional amount was carried out. Quite a large number of the old comrades from Democracy and Centerburg staid all night in the city to be present at the rally. Capt. Pearl of Huron, Ohio, the father of Mrs. Dr. G. D. Arndt was present and gave the old boys a good talk. The entertainment was all through before nine-thirty and everyone joined in pronouncing it a very happy affair.

"COXEY"

The Horse That Led The Breadless Army

Goes To Fertilizing Works At Pittsburg

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 26.—A receipt from a fertilizing works for $3, handed to Humane Agent L. W. Ahn marks the passing of the beautiful horse upon which Jacob S. Coxe led his non-descript army of tramps to Washington in 1893. "Coxey" was a beautiful horse in the days when General Jacob S. Coxe was the idol of the homeless, breadless and hopeless. He pranced proudly at the head of Coxe's army when it invaded Pittsburg and was admired by thousands.

During recent years "Coxey" had dragged an ash wagon to the dump to earn his oats. This summer he was 26 years old, and his vigorous, plump and satiny form had become shrunken, bony and unkempt. His prancing steps gave way to faltering and stumbling plodding.

A few days ago Humane Agent Ahn saw Samuel A. Shelton, a negro Civil War veteran, who is 70 years old, driving the shambling equipage towards a dump. He notified Shelton to send "Coxey" to Second-avenue fertilizing works.

Today Ahn handed over the receipt for the horse to prove that he had kept faith with the Humane Agent. Since passing from the ownership of General Coxe the horse has been owned by almost a dozen Pittsburgers, and his identity cannot be doubted.

NEW PENNSYLVANIA STATION EVEN HAS A JAIL

"The new Pennsylvania railroad station in New York City, has everything possible for the comfort and convenience of the company's patrons, including a jail of two cells."

Among other conveniences are a drug store, and two doctors one in attendance all day and the other all night. A person must see it to appreciate it.

The new station is pictured and described in a booklet printed by the company under the title, "The New York Improvement and Tunnel Extension of the Pennsylvania Railroad."

The area of the station and yard, says the booklet, is 28 acres and in this there are 16 miles of track. There are eleven passenger platforms, with 25 baggage and express elevators. The highest point of the tracks is nine feet below sea level.

The station building is 784 feet long and 430 feet wide. The average height above the street is 69 feet, while the maximum is 153 feet. To light the building it will take about 700 electric arcs and 20,000 incandescent lamps.

More than 150,000 cubic yards of concrete were required for the retaining walls, foundations, street building and the substructure. There are 650 columns supporting the station building and the greatest weight on any of these is 1,658 tons.

The booklet further says that the proposed initial daily service going through the station will consist of 600 Long Island railroad trains and 400 Pennsylvania trains, making the total of 1,000 trains per day.

The station building extends three stories under ground. All of the trains come in through tunnels, beneath the level of the street. All haulage is done by electric locomotives, using the third rail system. Consequently, all of the dirt and grime of the ordinary railroad station is done away with.

In building the exterior walls of the station it has required 490,000 cubic feet of pink granite and inside the concourse 60,000 cubic feet were used, making a total of 550,000 cubic feet. All of this was quarried in Milford, Mass., and shipped to New York, requiring 1,140 freight cars for its transportation.

The structure is the largest and most magnificent of its kind in the world, and has required less than six years to complete it. It will be thrown open to the public on Nov. 27, when the winter schedule will go into effect on the Pennsylvania system for the season of 1910-11.

NEW SCHEDULE

According to the new schedule the train will leave Columbus at 11:50 a. m. and arrive here at 1:30 p. m.

The New Castle train, now due at 6:52 p. m. will arrive at 6:49 under the new schedule. The south bound morning train due at 8:57 will arrive at 9:00 a. m. under the new schedule.

TO INAUGURATE TUBE SERVICE

The tube section extends from the mammoth new station at Seventh Avenue and Thirty-third street under the Hudson to Harrison, N. J., where it meets the old main line.

FIANCEE

Held As Prisoner In Her Mother's Home

Springfield, O., Nov. 26.—Miss Della Hawk, a pretty nineteen-year-old girl and a prospective bride, is being held a captive by her mother at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawk, 729 North Belmont avenue, according to a complaint filed with the police today by J. A. Miller, 22 years old, the man of her choice.

Miller had been a boarder at the Hawk home for some time, and is employed at the Lagonda shops. After working hours he made love to Dorothy and they decided to get married on Thanksgiving Day. They were not to let her parents know anything of it until after the ceremony had been performed. Mrs. Hawk, however, became suspicious and read the marriage license.

Arming herself with a sword she drove Miller from the house, he told the police, and then locked her daughter in. Miller tried to swear out an attachment for his bride-to-be, but could not secure such a document. He is determined, however, to secure the girl.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and Miss Fay Lauderbaugh of Columbus spent Thanksgiving with friends in Bangs.

Miss Julia Turner and Mrs. Mary A. Scribner returned to their homes in Mt. Vernon Saturday noon after a several days' visit with relatives in Mansfield.
